

live, inhabit and furnish our homes is changing. Maria Porro, President of Salone del Mobile.Milano said: "The 63rd edition was a guiding light in addressing global challenges for 2025, showcasing strength and shared vision. With 302,548 visitors, the event confirmed its central role in creating links between over 2,100 exhibitors from 37 countries and a community that has chosen Milan. The sector has once again demonstrated that quality and innovation in processes and products are key factors in an increasingly challenging international competition. In line with expectations, Euroluce redefined the future of lighting technology, boosting competitiveness between top Italian companies and 45% of foreign companies, leaders in the sector.